GRACE COLLEGE

Winona Lake, Indiana

The 65-acre Grace campus faced a series of expansions that resulted from an increased student body enrollment, which soared to 700 students this year, a 57% increase over five years. The demands for more facilities to house students brought forth the use of perimeter housing; the Winona Hotel, Beyer Home, Delta, Gamma C and the Medical Center worked double duty as women's dorms. The sudden increase caused some consternation in the dining commons, as well, with its capacity seating of 248 and 492 registered to eat.

Classroom facilities were also added in the form of East Hall which was newly purchased in 1971 and remodeled to house the music department. A donation made possible the nearly completed soccer field. The field should be completed in the spring of '73.

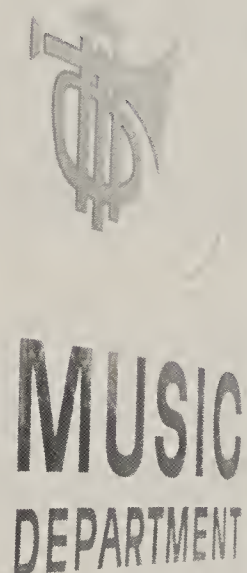

Also the previously known library learning center faced a new form of expansion when Betty Zimmer Morgan donated $100,000 towards its improvement.

Working towards the future goal of accreditation, students became aware of "individually expanding" their own horizons. Striving towards a "grade" of perfection lent itself to a "bubbling" enthusiasm. Students, along with the various faculty and staff, worked towards the fulfilling of various goals the campus imposed upon itself. This resulted in various departments moving a "hair" ahead towards expansion.

Sunny day retreat breaks tradition

Forsaking Camp Mack for a new campsite, Epworth Forest broke a four year tradition of rainy weathered retreats. Juniors fireballed victory after victory in the afternoon activities of tug-of-war, the VW race, and in softball. The explosive action of the Frosh also defeated the Sophomores in the Beanie Bowl in a 24-20 defeat. A greased pig contest and a tri-cycle race was also jammed into the day's calendar of events.

Concluding his Spiritual Life challenges in the open air chapel was Rev. George Slavin.

Homecoming expresses "Reason to Live"

Ginny Hungerford Reigns as Queen

Sherry Kaneshiro, freshman attendant; Peggy Crawford, sophomore attendant; Karen Stevens, senior attendant; Doreen Warden, senior attendant; Pam Teeple, junior attendant; Ginny Hungerford, Queen.

Homecoming "1971" witnessed a "Reason for Living" as its winning theme. The weekend activities commenced with a concert by the Grace College music department, highlighted by the crowning of Queen Ginny Hungerford. In its third year, a parade through Warsaw ensued with the Seniors best representing the theme with their winning float. The soccer team victoriously concluded the weekend of events.

(A) Ginny Hungerford, Homecoming queen; (B) The pep band provided entertainment in the parade. (C) The sophomore float represented fields of service. (D) Pam Teeple, junior attendant; (E) Peggy Crawford, sophomore attendant; (F) Sherry Kaneshiro, freshman attendant; (G) Seniors received first prize for their float. (H) Karen Stevens, senior attendant; (I) Freshmen made first attempt at float. (J) Doreen Warden, senior attendant; (K) Love, joy, and hope gave the juniors their "Reason for Living".

Grace Presents Christmas

Shortly after Thanksgiving, the campus became alive with the spirit of Christmas. Alpha Hall took on new form; Members of the art department displayed their many talents by decorating McClain Auditorium and by making a nativity scene which was placed on the campus grounds. The main highlight of the season was the banquet with Denise Powers as the special guest. Also, a performance of the "Messiah" followed by an open house given by the Moores' added to the Christmas atmosphere.

Valentines Day is a day to express "that funny feeling" one has for their valentine.

And so Steve Grill, M.C. for the Valentine evening talked about "that funny feeling" while dating, when engaged, and when married.

Entertainment was provided by Randy Kettering, Vicki Haskins, Frank Bowman and Jim Jenkins.

Borrowing "That Funny Feeling" as the theme for the Valentines banquet, combining it with a half hour of entertainment, the results are evident. One can only come up with a recipe for a pleasant evening for all.

Grace Gets "That Funny Feeling"

Sadie Ropes and Lassoos Them

Saddle sore Sadie and her cowpoke rode into Grace town late that night. They hitched their horses outside of the Golden Nugget Cafe and went inside to a roast ox dinner. Afterward, Sadie and her cowboy went over to the livery stable to mingle with the other gunfighters, cow-punchers, and the like. The dance hall girls and the bartender of the Silver Dollar Saloon were there, as well as the parson and the other townspeople. She and her partner stayed for the round-up of entertainment as the "Master's Design" sang and the showing of "Rio Lobo" roped off the evening.

America Receives Student Support

Unfurling American's for America Week this year was The Rev. Herbert Anderson of the Silver State Baptist Schools, Denver, Colorado. His six point message concerned "One Nation Under God." Also in attendance as speaker during the week was the Mayor of Indianapolis, Richard G. Lugar. Capsulizing Americanism week was Congressman William A. Steiger of the sixth district, Wisconsin.

Also highlighting the week was the traditional competition between the classes on the decorating of various buildings on campus. The sophomores seized first place as a result of their efforts in producing a patriotic student union building.

The concert band played the closing note of American's for America Week.

A walk "In the Garden" at Eby Pines Restaurant blossomed into the Freshman-Sophomore banquet. Fragrantly adding to the evening were Mike Vylonis, an ex-Broadway singer and his piano accompanist, James Foy. Scott Weaver, the minister in South Bend, Indiana, sowed the seed "In the Garden" from the Song of Solomon.

Bridging the evening was the film "Texas Across the River".

Juniors and Seniors

Relive Yesterday

Reliving the "Gay Nineties," the juniors and seniors traveled to Lester's Banquet Room in Fort Wayne, Indiana. Conforming to the theme for the evening, the main dining room was decorated with blue shag carpet and wagon-wheel chandeliers. Freshmen and sophomore men's assistance was employed to staff a candy store in one of the side rooms, and to escort guests to their pre-arranged seats. Entertainment for the evening was provided by the "Gay Nineties Combo," consisting of Edgar Lovelady and Mark Barnett on banjo and electric guitar as well as Vance Yoder playing honky-tonk piano and Jerry Franks on drums and trumpet. The speaker for the evening was Don Lonie. An after-banquet party provided the film, "Run Wild, Run Free".

Carnival Spirits First Day in May

L. TO R.: Ruth Craig; Jan Ward; Queen Sharon Terrell; Kathy Creager; Marilyn Hall.

Initiating the activities this year was May Day Queen Sharon Terrell as May Day went to the "Carnival." Helium balloons floated to the ceiling of the Winona Lake Auditorium as students wandered about the booths purchasing boutique items from the art booth, having their picture taken at the Sounding Board booth, or simply buying a chance at the dart throw. A bake sale of shoe fly pie and apple pan doughy was set up by the Junior class.

Contests for the day included the traditional sack race and, held for the first time, a Mr. Legs Contest sponsored by G-Club.

A barbecue dinner brought the days activities to a close.

This year's Drama Department presented Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Nights Dream". This cast of fine actors, under the direction of Steve Grill, performed to sell out crowds every night. The praise that was heard by all who attended was valid proof that this play was a great success.

Brass Choir Shines in Golden West

The Brass Choir, organized in 1966, is under the direction of Jerry Franks, artist-in-residence. Traveling from coast to coast, the group received an enthusiastic welcome from varied audiences, including churches, schools and clubs. The choir also appeared at Disneyland, Dodger Stadium, Cypress Gardens, Cobo Hall in Detroit, TV and Telstar International Radio.

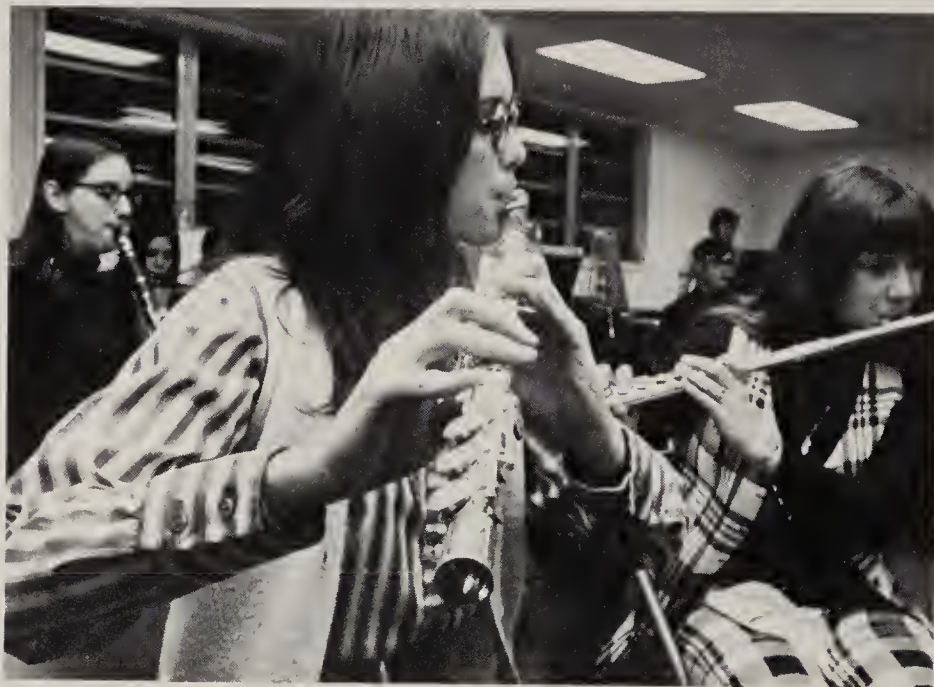

Concert Choir Captivates California

The 32 members of the Concert Choir set out this year for California. Several of their stops included Modesto, Santa Maria, and Seal Beach where they were joined by the Dimensions In Brass for a joint-concert. The choir was also able to tour Disneyland, San Diego Zoo, Huntington Park and Forest Lawn.

Grace, Town Band Together in Concert

The Grace College Community Concert Band, organized in 1966 and directed by artist-in-residence, Jerry Franks, chose sixty of their members from the college and fifteen from the community. In its three to four concerts per year, the band performed standard concert band literature and frequently featured guest soloists and conductors.

Professionals Present Concert Sound

Simon Estes, bass-baritone from Centerville, Iowa, and the grandson of a Negro slave, is known for carrying the prize in Moscow's first International Tchaikovsky Vocal Competition against the best young singing talents from virtually every country in the world. At 33 he is one of only two black males enjoying stardom on the major opera stages of the United States and Europe.

The Ferrante and Teicher piano team appeared at the Warsaw High School Auditorium March 13. Having sold over 20 million records and having won eleven gold records, they are one of the most sought-after musical combinations in show business.

They have appeared on every major television network program, at the Hollywood Palace, and for the Bell Telephone Hour.

The Indianapolis Symphony, under the direction of Izler Solomon, appeared April 18 at the Winona Auditorium. The Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra was founded in 1930 by Ferdinand Schaefer, who remained its conductor until he retired in 1937. Fabien Sevitzyk succeeded Schaefer as conductor, and in 1951, under his direction, the orchestra was listed among the "top ten" orchestras in the nation by the eminent musicologist Deems Taylor. Solomon took over as director and conductor in 1956 and has steadily built the orchestra into one of today's top-ranked ensembles.

Dorothy Warenskold's Musical Theater featured a vocal ensemble of eight. To open the program, she artfully arranged a synopsis version of the opera "Faust". The post-intermission program, "From Minstrel to Musical," included special arrangements by Robert M. Porter and by the well-known ASCAP composer, Raymond McFeeters.

The Berkshire Chamber Players took advantage of the versatility of Mr. Herbert Tichman as a virtuoso performer on the flute as well as the clarinet; Ruth Tichman's extraordinary gifts as a chamber music player; Timothy Eddy, an outstanding cello soloist and performer of chamber music; and Irving Becker's matching versatility on both violin and viola. These outstanding performers were able to present music from baroque to contemporary.

Grace Posts Creative Lineup

Cheryl Phipps pioneering into another field of publications, edited Grace College's first literary arts magazine, "Lines".

It was under her direction that students from the photography, art and English departments were given the opportunity to share their creative talents in a published volume. Members of the journalism department plus members of the faculty—Mrs. Coverstone, Mrs. Sauders, Mr. Lovelady and Miss Teel, advisor—also contributed to this publication.

I came in with wind's breath in my hair and the silence of small sunday town muffling my feet and the slap of my shirt.
She looked up and asked where I'd been.
I love you, I said
(for I could say no less) when her hair tumbled down from the towel.

The first light came, all rose and golden . . .
and a little orange.

It was beautiful as it melted the darkness into streams of grey.

And . . . slowly
the sun dawned upon me and upon all that was around me.

Lifting itself effortlessly over the horizon.

The clouds came and hid its brilliance . . .
but for a moment.

Then,
it was there again, shining more brightly than before, smiling on me.

And I was happy.

It was a time when the painted leaves could at last relax their hold on the branches and would be effortlessly born by the wind to their individual places of rest.

It was winter's sky, black and purple and threatening, but beneath it was a golden world touched by the sun's promise.

It was good to be young then and have all of life before you-to follow the restless blowing leaves wherever they might lead, not bound by age or practicality.

It was a time to be close to the earth—to be at one with the color and warmth and find ecstasy in its offering.

You're a Good Play, Charlie Brown

Charles Shultz's characters came to life on the Little Theater stage, thanks to the excellent direction of Steve Grill and musical direction of Dr. Vance Yoder. Scenes included Snoopy (Joe Lund) fighting the Red Baron, Lucy (Noelle Roller) taking a poll to determine how crabby she was, Linus (Tom Stallter) dancing with his faithful blanket, Schroeder (Gary Long) dealing with the wiley tactics of marriage-proposing Lucy and Charlie Brown (David E. Ogden) completing the animation with several warm and somewhat profound statements.

Social, Spiritual Enter Government

GMA stressed the spiritual aspect of student government. The organization was responsible for presenting two chapels a month for the purpose of encouraging prayer for home and foreign missions. Working with students in Christian service, planning the annual Missionary Conference, and aiding students in summer missionary programs were only a few of the many goals of Grace Missions in Action.

The Social Activities Board provided a well-rounded weekly social program including films, silent flicks, and other socials. They also planned activities like Homecoming and May Day.

Guest speakers, films, and informal discussions were used to help Grace College students become aware of their places in twentieth century affairs. History and social studies majors were required to be members of the club.

DELTA TAU CHI was organized to serve those students who are planning to go into full-time Christian service. There were monthly club meetings where the men learned the facts about the life of a minister. They also gained practical experience by speaking to the group. The club attended the pastor's prayer breakfast at the Winona Lake Brethren Church one Saturday each month. Dr. Charles Smith was the advisor for DELTA TAU CHI.

Sounding Board Issues NewsworthyNotes

Besides meeting weekly deadlines. The Sounding Board met the demands of student interest by fewer papers finding their way into waste receptacles. Working towards a more pleasing layout, the staff switched designs in the flag, concentrated on eliminating gutters, tombstones, naked columns, and the typical problems that plague a newspaper. A change of editors after first semester did not seem to effect the layout either.

What can you say when you work for the Heritage? You only get pain and tears and sorrow. So for at least until tomorrow, I'll never ever work again. Don't tell me what its all about because I've been there and I'm glad I found out. Oh those chains, those chains that bind me. Heritage, must you remind me. S P I R I T U A L

School year begins with spiritual basics

Encouraging Christian growth from the very start of the school year was the annual Spiritual Life Conference. As speaker, Rev. George Slavin, pastor of the Highland Park Baptist Church, stressed Christian dynamics in chapel (A); with individual students (B); with professors (C); and at the Retreat (D).

Bible Conference Initiates Second Term

With second semester barely in gear, the annual Grace Bible Conference gave the college and seminary a refreshing spiritual tune-up. Held February 8-11, the conference featured Rev. Knute Larson, pastor of the Grace Brethren Church in Ashland, Ohio. As main chapel speaker, Rev. Larson stressed the agape love triangle of instruction, inspiration, and involvement and challenged students not to be hypocrites in any of the three areas.

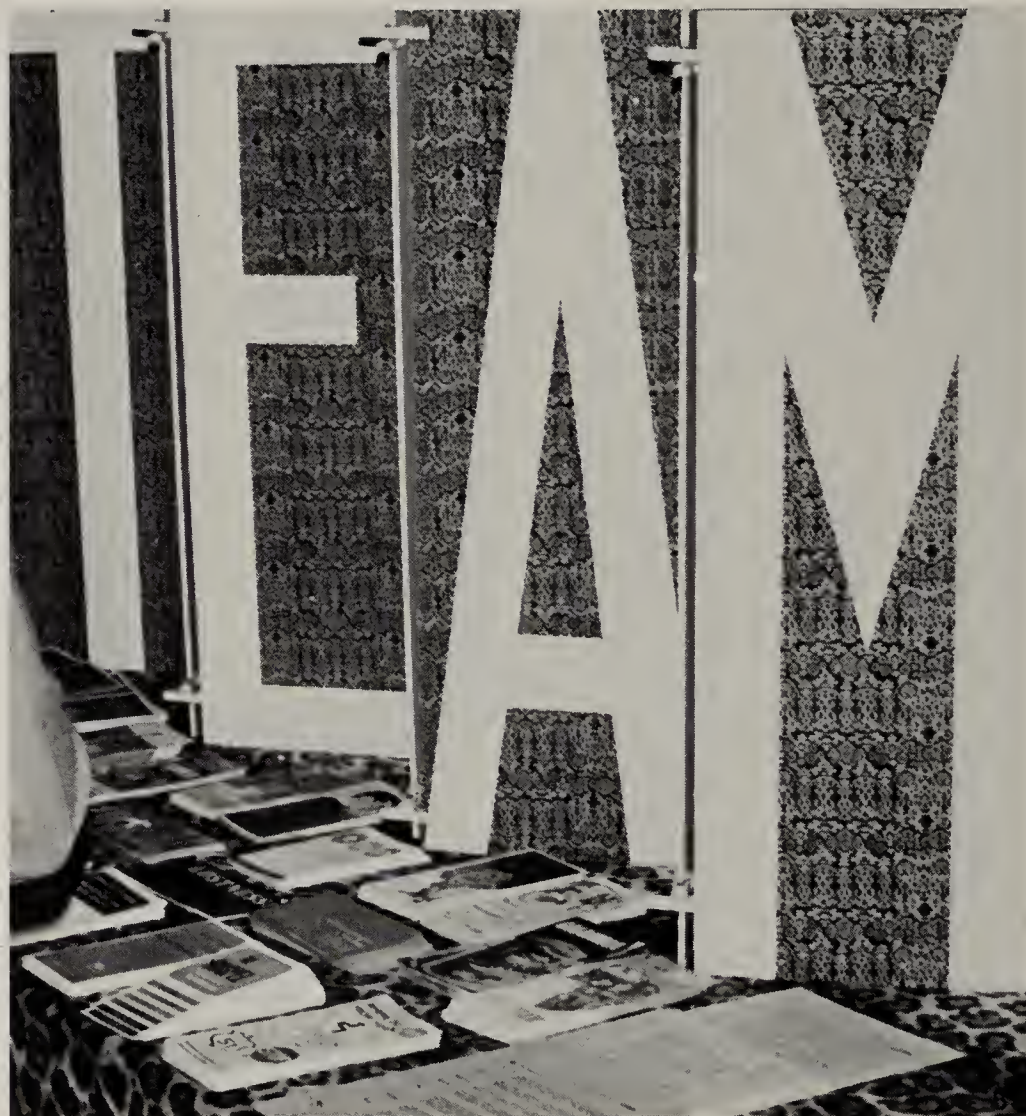

(A) An overhead projector made Rev. Larson's points clearer. (B) Dr. Hoyt welcomed Rev. Larson, a Grace alumni. (C) Dave Hobert pursued a topic with the speaker.

They will know

Who will know what? This question raised by the 1971 Missionary Conference theme "They Will Know" gave conference speakers a goal: a goal of exciting Grace college and seminary students about the need to reach the unsaved world with the Gospel of Christ. Increased participation in the conference came through chapels, evening sessions, and workshops.

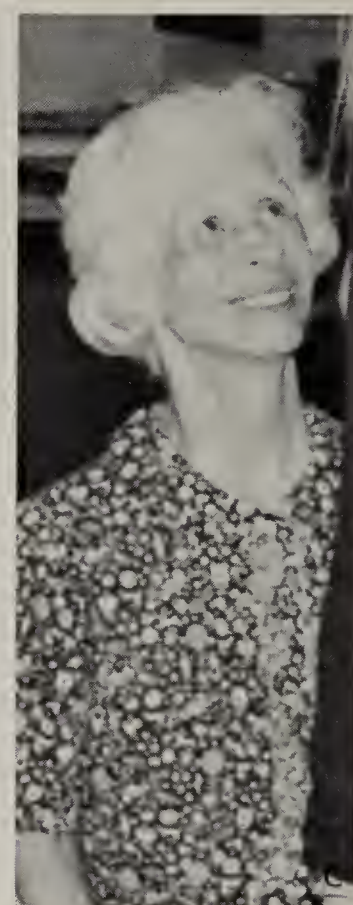

(A) Rev. George Joseph, recipient of Seminary project; (B) The Evangelical Alliance Mission display on Missionary opportunities; (C) African Brethren minister, Rev. Noel Gaiwaka with interpreter, Rev. George Cone; (D) Rev. Wayne Beaver, Brethren missionary in the Central African Republic; (E) Mrs. John Whitcomb, speaker at the Sweetheart's Breakfast; (F) Rev. Richard Winchell, assistant director of TEAM; (G) Grace coed at Brethren display; (H) Dr. Charles Piepgrass of Un-evangelized Fields Mission.

Christian service extends into community

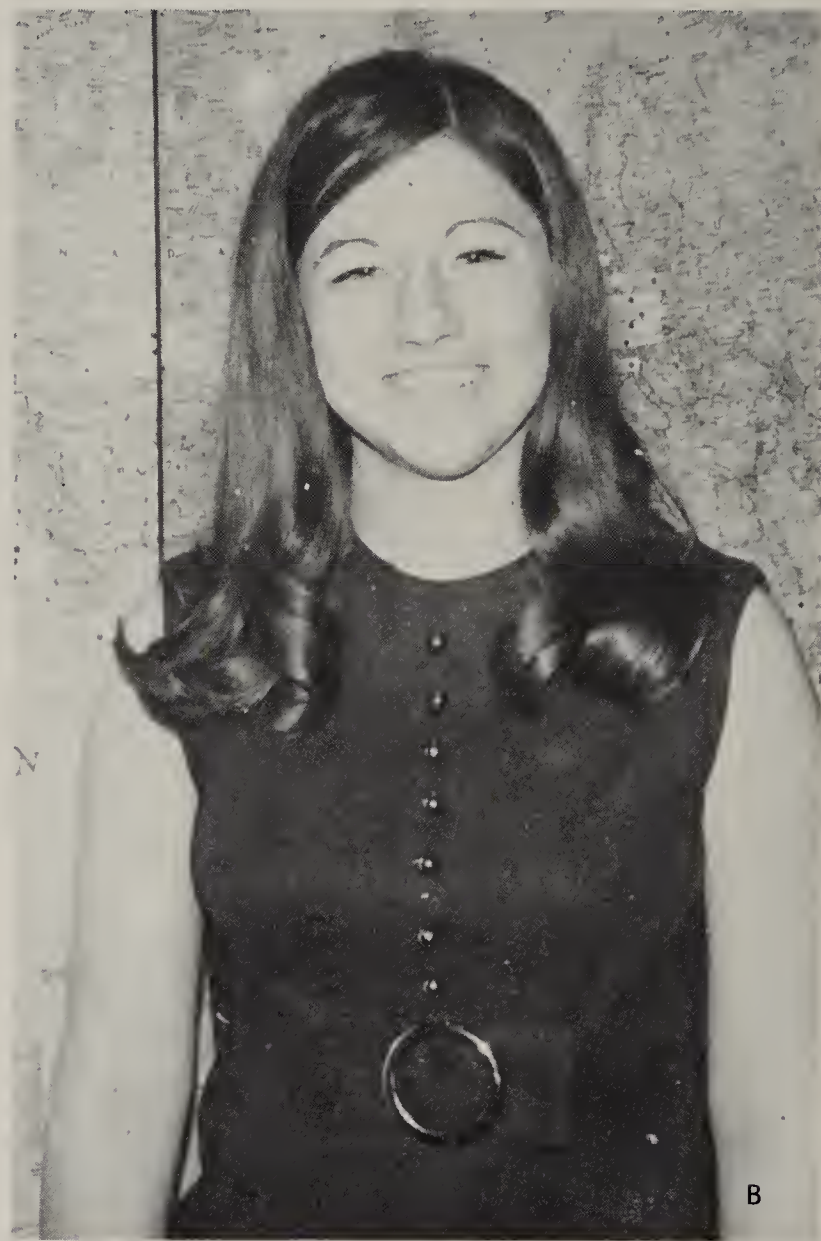

Who can know the blessing of seeing a young girl in prayer ... (A); receiving an eager response from a Good News Club member ... (B); cheering an elderly lady ... (C); establishing friendships at the nursing home ... (D); sharing the gospel message ... (E); ministering to those in jail ... (F); opening up an interest in the Bible ... (G); or seeing Christ's love bridge different ethnic groups (H)? For those Grace students who cared, such blessings were received as various Christian service groups reached out representing Grace and sharing God's grace.

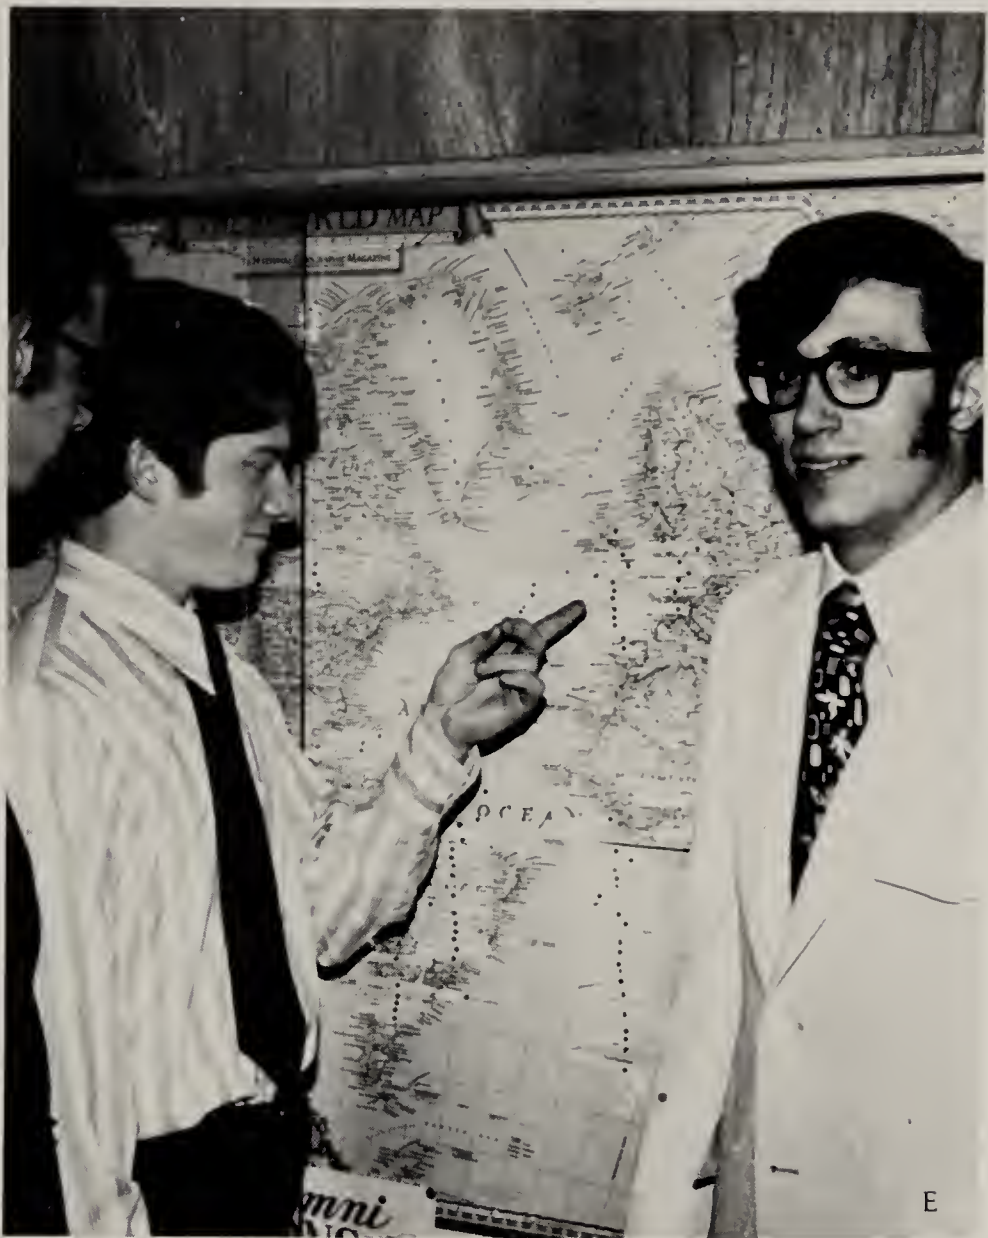

Students Embark for Summer Service

(A) Grace sang west with Daryl Emch, Cheryl Campbell, Ruth Craig, Valerie Ganther, and John Cake. (B) Through TIME, Susie Sudduth showed southern hospitality in Alaska. (C) The French chateau received service from TIME workers Jeannie Cloonan and Kris Burk. (D) France also welcomed Helen Reid as a TEAM members. (E) Three Daves—Marshall, Kennedy, and Bolles—went to France (where else?!) via Greater Europe Missions. (F) Manual labor at the German Bible Institute filled Dan Swab's summer. (G) And Grace sing east with Dave Griffith, Dave Hobert, Howard Reed, Bob Herr, Meredith Hammer, and Susie Thompson.

Lancer season scored heavily as they jumped high this year. With true grit they dribbled their way into the hearts of their fans. Until the end of the season the Lancers gave lots of fast-paced action. Cross Country Moves Out

A highlight of the season for cross-country this year was the winning of their MCC meet. Under second-year coach John Prichard' guidance, the cross-country team had a successful season. The first game of the season with Wheaton started poorly with a loss, but thereafter the team fireballed with a win against Goshen, Huntington, and Anderson.

Track Team Leaves Impressive Marks

FRONT: Coach Woolman; J. Bratcher; D. Geiger; D. Lund; S. Horney; M. Skiles; R. Zartman; T. Dutka; S. Rand; B. Shook. BACK: G. Eshelman; J. Gill; D. Weaver; T. Vesa; D. Brown; C. Turner, N. Cleveland; J. Byrd; G. Nieter; R. Sellers; S. Ciha; Coach Fletcher.

On your mark, get set, go! And the track season was off to a running start. Barreling past the obstacles, the track team let the dust fly. Grace's shoe leather express was able to out-distance the opposition at the scoreboard in several instances.

S. Firebaugh; D. Swab; G. Parks; J. Woolman; R. Reidmiller; D. Goodpaster; R. Fletcher.

The Grace net men anchored third place this year in the all-important Mid-Central Conference. The relatively young team under the coaching of Roland Fletcher completed the regular play with a four-six season. With four of the six team members returning next year, they will have experience behind the rackets for a smooth swing into action.

Golf Team Fit to a Tee

L. TO R.: D. Herwig; Coach Taylor; G. Firestone; R. Haun; M. Craghead; R. Tyson.

Under first-year Coach Taylor's guidance the golf team went from the front nine to the back nine. They played in fair and foul weather and battled against impossible odds. Late in the season they were able to tee their way to victory against Goshen on the Rozella Ford Fairways. The golf team should be well up to par next year.

Athletes Sponsor Tours and Conference

Rick Hughes of Teen Crusades was the featured speaker at the "G" Club Spiritual Life Conference on March 2 and 3. Rick attended the University of Alabama in 1964-65 on a football scholarship. He entered Southeastern Bible College in 1967 where he worked with Youth for Christ of the Greater Birmingham area for the two years before returning to Bible college in 1969.

Rick and his wife presently live at Birmingham Southern College where they are house parents in Andrews Dorm.

Rick Hughes presents rousing chapel service.

Grace athletic teams took off in opposite directions this year in active representation of the school. The eastern coast of Virginia received the Grace soccer men, while the basketball team members carried the school colors to the north-lands of Minnesota over Christmas. Baseball team members found spring in the south's climate of Alabama.

Soccer boys unload on trip east.

Intramurals Inspire Action

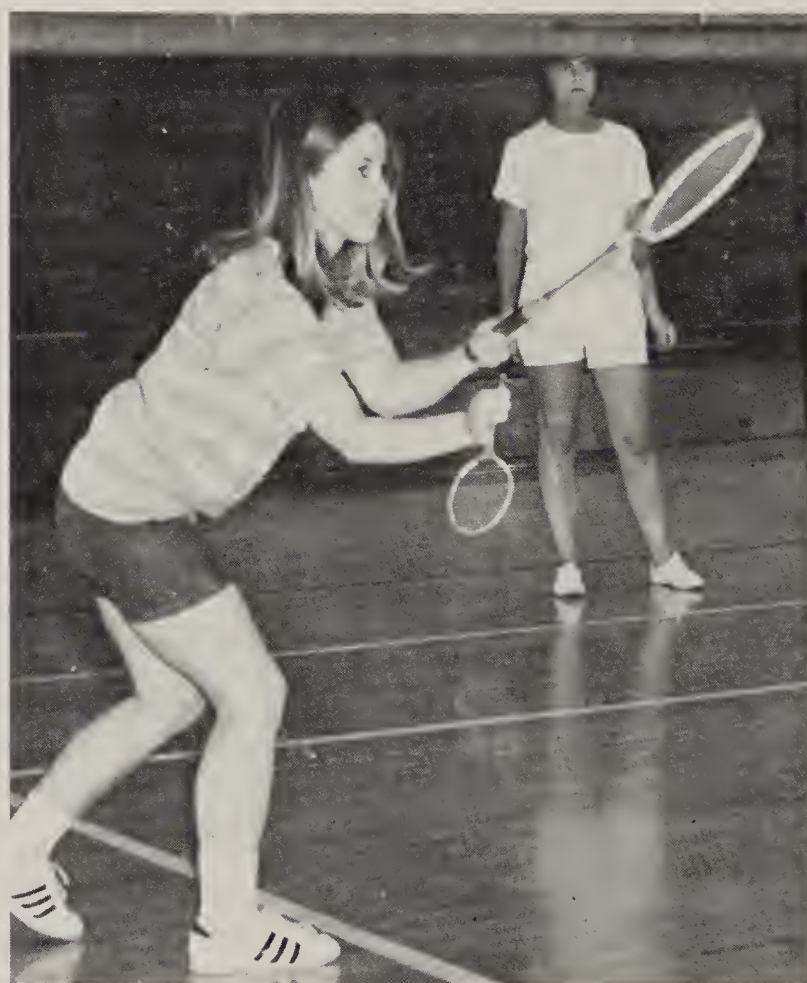

(A) An unsuccessful block yields two points (B) Two arms push for two points. (C) Byron watches the action.

A vital asset to the sports program is the intramural program at Grace. Dedicated to creating a physical outlet and to building enthusiasm, the intramural program is open to the college, seminary and faculty as well. It affords leisure time enjoyment and provides an opportunity for serious competition.

Girls Exercise in Women's Recreation Program

(A) Grace girls move out in field hockey. (B) Jamie Hysmith prepares to receive. (C) Jeanette Miller serves. (D) Grace sets it up. (E) A long stretch to return the ball. (F) Judy Ashman makes a slam in volleyball.

Granted opportunity to compete in field hockey, tennis, volleyball, track, basketball and badminton, the Women's Intramural program inspired stamina and physical fitness. Participating in this year's program were some 21 girls. Intercollegiate play was scheduled with such colleges as Goshen, Taylor, Manchester, Valparaiso, and Marion.

Although the seniors were never quite able to "coax" junior class president, Jon Hall, out of his hiding place, the senior sneak was declared a success by Dean Kriegbaum.

The seniors who attended did not have to be convinced of this fact.

After much planning on the part of president Butch Shook and vice-president Denny Reeve, the seniors left in a bus driven by former seminary student, Harry Frolich who also served as speaker.

The week-end, spent at Ponderosa Lake State Park, was filled with many activities including a trip to Cleveland.

At Last, Already — Graduation Comes

Going forth with assurance in the Lord's perfect will for their lives, the graduating class of '72 looked towards new horizons. A few went forth wondering where they would be placed in life, others departed with a definite place in the fields of tomorrow, and still others paused as they prepared themselves for future schooling. Yet, who or what can stand against them, where ever they walk in life, for they are the Lord's and walk with Him.

At the graduation ceremony, Mrs. Jean Coverstone was awarded the McClain Award for Excellence in Teaching.

"Baby Freshmen" initiated

(A) "Baby" Terry Eves learns to polish shoes at an early age. (B) A pacifier is a baby's best friend. (C) Freshman babies, like Jodene Cass become skilled at pushups. (D) Wayne Dean and Don Beveridge pose for their baby pictures.

The Freshmen grew to love the Sophomores as initiation day gave birth to diaper-clad, baby bottle-sucking new arrivals. Despite the maternal and paternal care given by the Sophomores, rebellious tantrums were a rule of the day. By the end of the day the Sophomore parents felt their "baby Freshmen" had matured enough to sit up to the table with the upperclassmen. Along with this privilege, the "babies" were allowed to wear the traditional green beanies.

SCHOLASTIC

Dr. Hoyt Presides for Tenth Year

Dedicated to the administrative responsibilities of Grace Schools, Dr. Herman A. Hoyt, president, has watched their growth from 20 students in 1937 to the more than 900 enrolled. Since he assumed the presidency in 1962, the school has doubled in enrollment and tripled the size of its campus. Coupled with his administrative duties, Dr. Hoyt is a professor of Biblical Eschatology. His background includes registrar and dean of both the college and seminary and teaching in the areas of Hebrew and Old Testament, and Greek and New Testament. Equally impressive is his Academic achievement; he holds the A.B., B.D., M.Th., and Th.D. degrees, as well as the honorary degree of LL.D.

Included in Dr. Hoyt's busy schedule is his involvement as a member of the board of the Winona Lake Christian Assembly, the American Association for Jewish Evangelism, the Christian League for the Handicapped, and the Board of Trustees of Bryan College. He is a charter member of the Evangelical Theological Society. Also, he actively represents Grace in the Indiana Conference of Higher Education, and the Council for the Advancement of Small Colleges.

Dr. Hoyt's Bible teaching ministry has had him travel extensively throughout the United States, Canada, and the Caribbean. Under this ministry, he has had opportunity to visit Europe and the Bible lands of the Near East to further his knowledge of the prophetic Scriptures. A contributor to a number of Christian periodicals, as well as an author of Christian periodicals, as well as an author of several books, Dr. Hoyt's background and total involvement stand as a symbol of excellence to the schools.

Drs. Kent, Male Uphold College's Aims

Serving in the position of Academic Dean since 1964, Dr. E. W. Male has successfully extended Grace College's goals.

Graduating from Western Michigan University with an A.B., Magna Cum Laude, Dr. Male proceeded to secure his B.D., Magna Cum Laude from Grace Theological Seminary, his Ed. M. from Temple University and his Ph.D. from Indiana University.

Dean Male's teaching and administrative experience include instructing a course in Christian Education and Practical Theology in Grace Seminary, Assistant to the Dean in the college and Assistant Professor of Christian Education and Psychology, and Dean of the College.

Vice-president of Grace Schools, Dr. Homer A. Kent, Jr. diligently seeks to aid the president in upholding the principles upon which Grace was founded.

As part of Grace Theological Seminary he has served as a member of the faculty, and as Dean, and holds these positions presently.

A graduate of Bob Jones University, Dr. Kent received his A.B. degree. Furthering his studies, he attended Grace Theological Seminary where he secured his B.D., Th. M., and Th. D. degrees.

Included among his published works are The Pastoral Epistles, Commentary on Matthew in Wycliffe Bible Commentary, and The Epistle to the Ephesians.

Ph.D.—Kansas State University

MODERN LANGUAGES DEPARTMENT: A series of innovations has developed in the past two years. Ernst Maier began teaching courses in German and Professor Phil Jones took on the position of Spanish instructor. A new cassette tape library and individualized study increases the quality of oral performance for the students. A program of overseas studies was incorporated into the curriculum, with three students already planning study in France and one in Mexico or Spain.

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT: A new coordinator of student teaching, Dr. Joseph Serra, was added to the faculty with teaching responsibilities in the field of guidance and counseling in secondary schools. The Student Education Association was reorganized, calling for monthly meetings with all student teachers.

MISSIONS AND CHRISTIAN EDUCATION DEPARTMENT: For the first time in the history of Grace College, a Mission and Christian Education department was established. Courses have been added and revised to more aptly acquaint college students with possibilities in mission work.

PSYCHOLOGY DEPARTMENT: The most important changes made in the psychology department were the addition on new classes such as adolescent psychology and clinical psychology and new faculty members, Dr. L. E. Fish, Mr. Ken Taylor, and Dr. D. E. Matter.

ART DEPARTMENT: Expanding appreciation of the visual arts and developing basic skills needed for elementary teaching are goals of the art department. Field trips to the Art Institute in Chicago for Art Appreciation students, a potter's wheel for use by ceramics and advanced crafts students were additions made this year.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT: An increase in collections of recordings of literary material and new instructors were changes made in the English department. Joining the faculty this year was Mr. Robert Arend, an instructor in English and literature. Also, Terry White and Professor Lovelady have completed their residence requirements for Ph.D.'s. The department sponsored a special lecture by Phil Lnadrum, a noted journalist, and a dinner meeting with outstanding contemporary theologian, Dr. John Warwick Montgomery, discussing Christian classics in literature.

SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT: Dr. Gary Tanner was added to the faculty in the field of biology in this department and new equipment was acquired: a laser, an air-track, four calculation machines and a scaler. Also, a small single concept projector enabled the showing of film loops.

GREEK DEPARTMENT: A new two hour course has been added to the Greek department: Rapid Greek Reading in the New Testament. This will enable the student to gain a greater exposure to the New Testament in its original language.

L. to R.: John Evans; Albert Philippi; Dick Messner; Dewey Melton; Linda Weddle; Tom Hammers.

Developing Promotion Moves Grace Ahead

The Development Department for Grace College and Theological Seminary has been involved in projecting the educational philosophy and objectives of Grace Schools since 1965. The task of this department consists of raising funds, dealing with public relations, recruiting students, and taking care of alumni affairs. An important function of the Development Department is that of serving the Advisory Committee to the president.

Who's Who in American Colleges

Dan Snively: As Student Senate president and Grace Missions in Action president, Dan has demonstrated to Grace College his outstanding leadership ability. Also a member of the soccer and track teams, he proved his athletic ability by being named all conference in both sports.

Dan, a social studies major, received many Christian Service awards, including Greatest Contributor to Campus Life Award for 1971.

In preparation for the ministry, Dan has planned to enter Grace Theological Seminary.

Karen Stevens: A psychology major, Karen served Grace College for four years as she contributed to student government as secretary of Student Senate, Student Council representative, Student Affairs Committee member, and Art Club treasurer.

Karen reigned on the Homecoming Court twice-as a freshman and as a senior. She was also a May Day Court attendant as a junior.

Karen has planned to further her education at Purdue University, doing graduate work in psychometry.

David Diehl: David, a physical education major, excelled on the athletic field. In his four years at Grace College, he participated in soccer, baseball, and basketball. He was captain of the soccer team his senior year and captain of the baseball team his sophomore and junior years. Proving his excellence in sports, Dave was named to the all-state and all-conference soccer teams his sophomore, junior, and senior years.

Dave served as freshman class vice-president and G-Club president. He was also a prayer group leader for Athletes in Action.

This year Dave had a part in the all-school play, "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Ray Shook: As an active student leader, Ray "Butch" Shook held the positions of Senior Class president, Junior Class president, and Sophomore Class vice-president. For two years he also served on the Student Affairs Committee.

As a physical education major, Butch played basketball for four years, two of which he was co-captain, and was an active member of G Club for four years.

Butch has planned a career in guidance and counselling.

Geoffrey Huys: Dedicated in the field of publications, Geoff served as executive editor of the Sounding Board for three semesters, as well as news editor and feature editor. Geoff also actively supported many other areas of campus life as a member of the Twentieth Century Affairs Club and the Grace Oratorio Society. He has been on the golf team, and also served as African prayer group leader for G.M.A.

Geoff was a social studies major, furthering his education at Grace Theological Seminary.

Roger Haun: Roger has contributed much to Grace College academically, politically and athletically. He has been on the honor list for four years, has been chairman of the Student Union Board, and vice-president of G Club.

A physical education major, Roger has been captain of the golf team for three years and played basketball for the Lancers for two years. He has also been named a member of the Grace College Athletic Association.

Ruth Ward: Ruth, a member of the Grace College Concert Choir, has served as choir secretary, as vice-president of SEA, and as a Resident Assistant. She has also been active in church music and the nursing home ministry.

Ruth has shown her leadership abilities as a sub-supervisor of housing during conferences. She has also served as a house mother at the Winona Lake Christian Assembly. A social studies major, she has planned a teaching career.

Susan Bowman: Susan served as Student Senate secretary in her senior year and reigned on the May Day Court her junior year. She also held a position on the honor list every semester she attended Grace College.

Susan, an English major, has future plans in teaching and counselling fields. Ultimately, she wants to go into delinquent youth work or missions.

Sue was active in the nursing home and was a member of the woman's hockey team.

Like the sweet nectar of spring . . .
Like the tide that laps the shores of time . . .
Like the train traveling to distant places . . .
These personify Grace.
Sweet knowledge,
Friendships that endure,
Those who come from different places
Will to different places go.
All for the passion of knowledge,
A commission towards all to expand,
These bring joys for a lifetime
And honor to our Saviour and Lord.
